

MINNESOTA CONSCIENTIOUS EXEMPTIONS

MN law requires parents submit up to date vaccine records, a medical exemption signed by a doctor or a notarized conscientious exemption for EVERY child upon enrollment in daycare, public school, charter school, private school or homeschool. Conscientious exemptions encompass a family's religious or conscientious beliefs and are utilized when their beliefs prevent them from accepting one or more vaccine doses. It allows space for public health recommendations while respecting the diverse population and individual autonomy of our citizens. Both state and federal law uphold these rights.

TO DELAY OR DECLINE EVEN ONE DOSE REQUIRES THE USE OF AN EXEMPTION. MANY EXEMPTIONS ON RECORD ARE FOR FULLY OR PARTIALLY VACCINATED CHILDREN WHO MAY USE ALTERNATE SCHEDULES FOR A VARIETY OF REASONS.

WHETHER WE AGREE WITH THE FULL SCHEDULE AT THIS TIME OR NOT, THERE ARE CONSTANTLY NEW VACCINES AND NEW ADDITIONS TO THE SCHEDULE THAT MAY NOT BE SUITABLE FOR EVERY FAMILY.

THE ABILITY TO DENY EXEMPTIONS ACTIVELY REMOVES THE ABILITY FOR FAMILIES TO PERSONALIZE OUR MEDICAL DECISIONS WITH OUR HEALTHCARE TEAM IN ANY WAY.

CONCLUSION

In a state where diversity is celebrated, religious freedom stands as a cornerstone of individual liberties. It is a fundamental human right that allows citizens to practice their beliefs without fear of discrimination or persecution. However, this freedom is not guaranteed and must be actively protected and preserved by all of us.

As we navigate through this challenging session, it is crucial for us to come together and advocate for the preservation of religious freedom for all. We must stand against any form of intolerance or infringement on the rights of individuals to express their faith freely. By raising awareness, engaging in dialogue, and supporting initiatives that promote religious tolerance and acceptance, we can create a more inclusive Minnesota for everyone.
